What is UNEP/GRID-Geneva?

Global Resource Information Database - Geneva

In 1985, the UNEP established one of the first environmental data hubs of the Global Resource Information Database (GRID) network in Geneva.

Known as GRID-Geneva, the centre was given the mandate to collect and process high-quality environmental data worldwide to support environmental early warnings and multi-scale assessments for informed decision-making and policy-setting.
The Partnership

[Diagram showing the partnership between UNEP, FOEN, and UNIGE, with overlapping circles and logos]
The Team
20 people
Transform data into knowledge

Appropriate actions

Informed decisions

Positive impacts

Countries

Countries

Communication

Contacts + explanations
Recommendations

Knowledge

Understanding, identification of processes and triggers.

Information

Products (maps, graphs, tables, trends, indicators)

Processing

Processed data

Data

Formatted data

Data providers

With UNEP & partners

Processed data

UNEP | GRID Geneva

Appropriate actions

Informed decisions

Knowledge

Information

Processing

Data

UNEP | GRID Geneva

www.grid.unep.ch
Expertise

Modelling

Database

Maps and graphs

SDI

Remote Sensing

GIS

Web mapping

Programming

Capacity building